Senior Class History

One September day in 1933, we shyly entered the doors of Gould Academy. But the doorway of opportunity that opened its portals to our bright and shining countenances was not the one which today greets the incoming Freshmen. We were the last class to start our career in the old building. That in itself was enough to distinguish us. What other class ever started school to the merry sound of rivets and hammers? In those days, both teacher and pupil needed keen ears and strong lungs. We would not exchange those two terms in the old building for all the other semesters we have spent in the brick castle that was slowly rising behind the old golden dome. The hump in the floor of the second corridor, the darkness of the stairs, the desks carved with initials, the picture that unexplainably dropped just before we marched out—all these are linked forever to the memories of our Freshman year.

The election of our officers took place with no fanfare. Erland Wentzell was elected our president; Lawrence Perry, vice-president; and Rita Hutchins, secretary-treasurer. When their pictures appeared in the fall issue of the Herald there was no question in our minds which class had the finest looking leaders.

Constance Philbrook represented the girls on the Athletic Council and made history when she announced to our startled elders that the Freshman team would accept no handicap. Our record that year was far from impressive. Won—none, lost—seven. However, we made up in good times what we lacked in victories. Barbara Moore captained the team composed of Rita Hutchins, Constance Philbrook, Ruth Weagle, Margaret Tibbetts, Eleanor Vail, and Hulda Stearns.

The boys' team fared better than the girls as the purple-clad youngsters, who seemed so small, put up some of the gamest fights ever seen on the Gould floor. We won one game, lost five, and thrilled our loyal rooters by nearly beating the Sophomores in two overtime periods. Captain Erland Wentzell, O'Neil Robertson, Robert Moore, Dale Thurston, Robert Chapman, and Gardner Smith made up the team.

Spring came and with it the moving to the new building. How faint the singing and responses seemed in the new main room! We moved with fear and silently prayed lest a drop of ink or a scratch mar the pristine beauty of our surroundings. The Freshman Class distinguished itself by placing two men on the baseball team. Who can forget the day Gould beat Berlin with Wallace Morgan '37 pitching and Robert Chapman '37 behind the bat! There was no enduring us for days afterward.

Marching also took much of our time, for we needed much practice for Graduation. The majority of us were boys. Perhaps that was the reason we gave Miss Hanscom and Mr. Anderson so little trouble. Commencement morning, the Dedication, the Senior Reception—our Freshman year had fled.

Rather cockily we returned the following year. No longer were we the butt of all humor, the babies of the school. We were members of the Sophomore Class. Sophomores were numerous on the football squad; we were taking an ever increasing part in all school activities. Our officers, Erland Wentzell, O'Neil Robertson, and Rita Hutchins served us faithfully and well. The class rings were selected and bought with no disagreements, much to the surprise of all.

The basketball season that year brought better fortune to our teams. O'Neil Robertson and Constance Philbrook led the proud members of '37. The boys won several games, and the girls managed to defeat the Freshmen once. Erland Wentzell played regularly on the Gould Varsity while Neil captained the second team.

The spring term sped rapidly by, and before we realized it Commencement had come and gone; one-half of our career was over.

When school started in the fall, we were definitely an important part of the student body. It was now common-place for us to see a large number of our classmates on every athletic team. In the Girl Reserves—Boys' "Y" plays nearly half of the actors and actresses were from our number. The "Y" Cabinets were liberally sprinkled with Juniors and so was the Athletic Council.

Our basketball teams with Dwight Stiles and Rita Hutchins as captains were runners-up for the championships. The girls who had been considerably helped by Ann Lyndon, Rosamond Foss, and Louise Jacobs, forced their way into the Hall of Fame one Friday afternoon. That was the day we handed the seniors their first defeat in two years. Only six players came out in suits, but those six were enough. We celebrated our triumph so long and so well that, alas, we were easy victims in our next meeting with the vengeful members of '36.

Our Junior Prom and the flood came together. It took more than rising water to daunt us, and we had our dance the middle of March.

The Spring Term came and with it baseball, track and the Centennial. "Lefty" Keniston and "Bob" Browne starred on the diamond while Erland Wentzell, Dick Young, and Dwight Stiles earned letters. O'Neil Robertson, Dwight Stiles, and Brooks MacFarland led us to the class track championship; O'Neil was the undefeated champion of the County in the mile run.

The Centennial brought work for all. The pageant busied most of us with rehearsals, but, although rehearsals were confining, we were glad to do our share. Graduation seemed rather sad that year; too many of our close friends were leaving.

Last fall, with proper dignity, we took up the duties of our senior year. For the third time our officers were Erland Wentzell, O'Neil Robertson, Rita Hutchins, who shared the duties of treasurer with Barbara Moore. Yet, in spite of the indisputable fact that we were Seniors, we felt neither older nor wiser.

The autumn activities, football, the Freshman Reception, and the operetta, kept us too busy to brood over our age and worries.

The girls' basketball team finally fought its way to the top of the heap after four years of earnest effort, but the boys were less successful. We provided the comedy of the Inter-Class Tournament when Captain Edward Holt made a basket for the Freshmen, and in the final game led by Donald Bennett and Lawrence Perry we nearly edged the champion Sophomores.

Dwight Stiles, Bob Browne, Erland Wentzell, Bob Swain, and Rodney Howe starred in the Winter Carnival; for the second consecutive year we were winter sports champions.

The Spring Term brings the double duties of the Senior Play and Graduation. Our Senior Play was "The Patsy,;" Clinton Bennett was an efficient ticket chairman and the entire class cooperated.

We sincerely hope that the friendly spirit that has prevailed in all activities which we have undertaken will make of our Graduation Day a most memorable occasion.

Class Will

We who are about to depart, namely, the members of the class of 1937, being of sane mind and in full possession of our faculties make these last bequests.

Our burdens, our responsibilities, and our dignity we leave to the Junior Class.

The task of upholding our excellent athletic record we leave to the Sophomore Class.

The experience which we have laboriously acquired through years of toil and servitude we leave to the Freshman Class.

To Mr. Hanscom we leave our appreciative affection for the patience and kindness shown us when we were young and foolish.

To Mr. Sayles and Miss Roop we leave our thanks for the kindness and help shown us on this, the last lap of our long journey.

To Mr. Bailey we each leave a lock of our hair for his experiments with static electricity.

To Mrs. Bailey we leave an electric knitting machine with which she can equip the campus.

To Mr. Fossett we leave a mechanical nurse-maid.

To Miss Bailey we leave the fond memory of our prowess in mathematics.

To Mr. Anderson we leave our heartfelt sympathy that with our class go so many of his best and most faithful athletes.

To Mrs. Thompson we leave a carton of Ivory Soap with which the Freshmen may continue to turn out works of art.

To Miss Leavengood we leave the sincere hope that her ambitions for new scenery will soon be realized.

To Miss Hanscom we leave a kangaroo to teach her basketball players to "get off the floor."

To Miss Carriek we leave a model home for her department.

To Mr. Myers we leave an elevator in which he may more easily reach the commercial department.

To Mr. Combs we leave a portfolio of swing music.

To Mrs. Walton we leave the punch cups we broke at the Freshman Reception.

To Miss Burris we leave a dog-house for Charlie.

The Individual Bequests:

I, Charles Anderson, leave my donkey to Murray and Christie Thurston. This will aid them in future political campaigns.

I, Clinton Bennett, leave my executive ability to the ticket chairmen of the future.

I, Donald Bennett, leave my perseverance to Sherman Williamson.

I, Shurwin Bennett, leave the ladies with regrets.

I, Robert Browne, leave my gray hairs and wrinkles to the next brave man who referees the girls' basket-ball games.

I, Mervin Buck, leave my automobile to those who daily travel from East Bethel.

I, Huston Dodge, leave a pile of shavings in the shop.

I, Rosamond Foss, leave my sombre and gloomy nature to Frank Littlehale.

I, Irene Foster, leave my chauffeur's license to Jerry Stanley.

I, Shirley Gilbert, leave my harmonica to Madelyn Bird.

I, Edward Holt, leave my penchant for football to my brother, Donald.

I, Rodney Howe, leave my position on the football team to Dana Brooks.

I, Rita Hutchins, leave my title "The Red Headed Woman" to Ellen Spear.

I, Louise Jacobs, leave my motto, "Silence is Golden," to Nathaniel Bartholomai.

I, Earlon Keniston, leave my ability to play baseball to Harold Young.

I, Yvonne Kimball, leave my fondness for gymnastics to Ina Bean.

I, Barbara Moore, leave my Tarzanistic tendency to Virginia Smith.

I, Ann Lyndon, leave my starring role at forward to Nancy Philbrook.

I, Robert Moore, leave my excellent disposition to Herbert Foote.

I, Lawrence Perry, leave my eye-catching green sweater to Edward Robertson.

I, Constance Philbrook, leave my laboratory technique to any one who wishes to commit suicide.

I, Margaret Ripley, leave my talkativeness to Mary Stearns.

I, O'Neil Robertson, leave my position as President of the Debating Club to Bryant Bean.

I, Hulda Stearns, leave my interests in Middle Intervale to Ada Cotton.

I, Helen Stevens, leave my modesty to Esther Pike.

I, Dwight Stiles, do not leave but take with me a trailer full of ribbons and medals won in track meets and winter carnivals.

I, Robert Swain, leave the responsibility of keeping Andover on the map to Edward Miller.

I, Margaret Joy Tibbetts, leave my struggles in mathematics to Patricia Goodwin.

I, Eleanor Vail, leave my abounding good nature to my cousin, Madeleine Hall.

I, Erland Wentzell, leave a map of the route from the Gym to the Girls' Dorm to Brooks McFarland.

I, Robert Whitman, leave my artistic ability to Walter Eckhoff.

I, Jane Waterhouse, leave an electric dish-washer to the Girl's Dormitory.

We, Norwood and Norrine Waterhouse, leave Gould Academy without a pair of twins for the first time in six years.

I, Richard Young, leave my fluency in the French language to Charles Adams.

To this document we, the class of 1937, hereby affix our hand and seal this, the tenth day of June in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-seven.

Comments From Each Senior

C. E. A.—Do I just visit some classes or don't I know what the lesson's about?

C. C. B.—I'm on the Honor Roll!

D. C. B.—So'm I!

S. B.—I'm from West Bethel, but I wish I lived in Berlin!

R. I. B.—I can't decide which one likes me best.

M. E. B.—I don't say much but I could say a lot.

H. J. D.—I don't know which I'll be, a minister or an architect.

R. N. F.—Eene, meene, minee, mo, if I catch him by the toe,
Out goes all the rest.

I. V. F.—I'm a bit shy for a big girl.

S. B. G.—Yes, my hair's red, but I have a very mild disposition.

R. K. H.—I like to fool; I like to laugh; I like to play. Don't you?

J. E. H.—Why don't all of you get good rank in bookkeeping like I do?

R. I. H.—I'm the first of the devils. So what!

L. A. J.—I can dance, but I can't sing. Anyway, Dana doesn't mind.

E. A. K.—I'm not bashful—much!

Y. E. K.—Aren't I glad that I live at home this year!

A. M. L.—Well sometimes yes, and then again sometimes, no.

B. G. M.—I'm the second of the four devils. Don't let that mislead you.

R. L. M.—I wish Pert were back.

L. B. P.—I like her, but I don't think she knows it.

C. F. P.—I'm the third of the devils. Numbers don't count.

M. E. R.—Call me "Rip." I don't care.

F. O. R.—I was captain of the football team,
but it didn't effect my head.
H. L. S.—I'm bashful, ask Helen.
H. R. S.—Hulda and I are very good friends.
D. G. S.—Say, have you made first base yet?
R. B. S.—Well, what do you know about Math?
M. J. T.—I'm the last of the four devils,
we're self-sufficient.
E. F. V.—What time did you say study hours began?
C. J. W.—I wish I had a twin.
N. S. W.—Norwood's my name. Simple isn't it?
N. S. W.—I'm Norrine. I'd rather be heard
than seen.
E. S. W.—Who said anything about two-timing? Was it my conscience?
R. A. W.—I wisht I was a little rock a settin'
on a hill.
R. T. Y.—It ain't my fault I'm handsome;
and it ain't my fault I'm gay.

Junior Class Notes

We have had two class meetings this year, and at our first meeting, we selected the following officers:

President—Edward Robertson
Vice-President—Frank Littlehale
Secretary and Treasurer—Christie
Thurston

We were sorry to lose several of our old members but we sincerely welcome the new ones. There are eight new members, namely: Arlene Brown, Patricia Goodwin, Alden Marshall, Jane
Runyon, Barbara Whittemore, Lewis
Porter, Arthur Bennett, Newton
Stearns.

Junior Personals

George Adams:
"Speech is great but silence is greater."
Bryant Bean:
"I love its giddy gurgle,
"I love its fluent flow,
"I love to wind my tongue up,
"I love to hear it go."
Ina Bean:
"I can be as good as I please
When I please to be good."

Arthur Bennett:
"Never learn today what you can forget tomorrow."
Vivian Berry:
"Foreward and frolic and glee was there
The will to do, the soul to dare."
Hazel Billings:
"Good nature is stronger than a toma-hawk."
Jessie Brooks :
"She is tall enough to be graceful
And dainty enough to please."
Arlene Brown:
"She's very small, but who can say,
She'll not have the last word if it takes all day."
Donald Brown:
"For Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do."
Jane Chapin:
"A good sport is she, a jolly good friend,
On whom for anything one may depend."
Shirley Chase:
"Don't talk to me of women
Talk about something sensible."
Ada Cotton:
"There's little of the melancholy in her."
Helen Crouse:
"Here's to a girl who's never sad,
To see her around we are always glad."
Louise Farrar:
"I am sure care is an enemy to life."
Marjorie Fish:
"Whatever she did was done with such ease
In her alone was natural to please."
Patricia Godwin:
"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."
Florice Grover:
"A maiden never bold,
Of spirit, mild and gentle."
Arthur Haselton:
"There lies a deal of deviltry beneath this mild exterior."
Phyllis Hunt:
"A subtle humor and a smile
She carries with her all the while."
Ethel Jodrey:
"I never laugh and I never smile,
And I never laugh and play"—(?)
Royden Keddy:
"And still they gazed, until the wonder grew
That one small head could carry all he knew."

Robert Keniston:

"Why did my parents send me to this school,

That I with knowledge might enrich my mind?"

Mellen Kimball:

"His lips move but he whispers not."

John King:

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men."

Frank Littlehale:

"And I wonder more and more Just what I am hurrying for."

Elizabeth Lyon:

" 'Tis well to think well,
It is well to act well."

Brooks MacFarland:

"Begone, my cares! I give you to the winds."

Maynard Malley:

"Just a happy-go-lucky boy."

Alden Marshall:

"Wise with a wisdom all his own."

Nancy Philbrook:

"Nancy, who is never known to shirk,
Is always faithful in her work."

Lewis Porter:

"The art of bluffing is to know when to stop."

Edward Robertson:

"Men are seldom blessed with good fortunes
And good sense at the same time."

Jane Runyon:

"Jolly, lively, full of fun,
A good friend and a true one."

Geraldine Stanley:

"I would not have the car I drive
Go so fast that folks must stop and stare."

Mary Stearns:

"Mary is a student rare,
True and loyal, fair and square."

Newton Stearns:

"I dare do all that become a man,
Who dares do more is none."

Keene Swan:

"I know I am small but I do my best
It's the little things that count."

Christie Thurston:

"There's nothing in this world so sweet as love."

Elaine Warren:

"She, while her companions slept
Was toiling upward in the night."

Archie Waterhouse:

"Slow but sure."

Barbara Whittemore:

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness."

Elizabeth Field
31. We have heard that men of few words
32. are the best men.
Laurice and Dwight Morrill
33. A quiet, retiring little maid.
Beatrice Stearns
34. Happy am I, from care I am free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?
Marion Jellerson
35. She's modest as any,
And blithe as she's bonny.
Mary Robertson
36. From care and trouble always free.
Christine Cunningham
37. Youth in pleasure should be spent,
38. Age will come; we'll then repent.
George Waterman, Arthur Malley
39. The ups and downs of life do not disturb me. Rupert Grover
40. To know how to be silent is more difficult and more profitable than to know how to please.
Clara Silver
41. Calmness in thought indicates forceful intellect. Claire Tebbets

42. Nothing is more useful than silence.
Nathaniel Bartholomaei
43. Words sweet as honey from his lips
distilled. Edward Mosher
44. Noble in every thought and deed.
Ada Cotton
45. And wheresoe'er thou move, Good Luck
Shall fling her shoe after.
Charles Adams
46. Farewell, Love, and all thy laws forever.
Anne Logofet
47. I'll shape myself a way to higher things.
Faith Brown
48. Her eyes as stars of Twilight fair,
Like twilight too, her dusky hair.
Arlene Greenleaf
49. I bear a charmed life. Mellen Kimball
50. Gracious, kind, and good in all her ways.
Barbara Tyler

I undertook to write these notes,
I tried to be sincere;
'Twas not to knock or even mock
Or cause someone a tear.
Don't close your eyes and criticize,
You put me to the test;
My work is done
My goal is won
I really did my best.

Students' Home

Gould Academy, Bethel, Maine
 April 12, 1937

Dear June,

Be prepared for a long letter. Get your extra cushions now! You always ask me to tell you everything, which is quite impossible, but here I go.

Shall I begin with people? O. K. Since teachers usually come first, I shall begin with them. Last fall, with the group of new girls, came a new Dean of Girls, matron, Home Economics teacher, cook, chef, and janitor. Our new Dean of Girls came from Missouri and her name is Miss Lorene Roop. She had taught in Missouri high schools for the past eight years, first as assistant and then as principal. Last fall she came to our dear old Gould Academy from a city high school, at Marquette, Michigan, where she was the head of the French Department and was a leader of the girls. She has a twin sister who lives at Hebron. When her sister comes to visit her here, the two can hardly be told apart. Some rather amusing mistakes have been made in distinguishing between the two.

Our new matron's name is Mrs. Walton. She comes from Auburn. She has proved to be very capable in handling the running of the dormitory. The people at the dormitories are not able to say that they are hungry when leaving the table because the supply of food seems to be unlimited.

When mentioning food, I think of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett and Mr. and Mrs. Compass, the new chef and pastry cook. Last fall, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett started to cook for us but because of the sudden death of Mrs. Garrett's daughter, they were called away and were succeeded by the Compasses.

You can remember Miss Kellogg, can't you? Well, she gave us a little bit of a surprise last fall when she got married. She has been traveling with her husband in Europe but now she has returned to the United States. A very short time ago, she paid us a visit here at the dorm and then she left for South America. Miss Carrick has taken her position in the Home Economics Cottage and is having great success.

Miss Hanscom, Miss Leavengood, and Miss Bailey, who are teachers, room on the second floor. Miss Burris, who is school secretary, rooms there also. Mrs. Thompson and Miss Carrick room on the third floor. Those lucky teachers can have radios in their rooms and how we girls wish that we were allowed to have them! I expect that you will take it for granted that Miss Roop and Mrs. Walton room on the first floor.

And now for the girls: Marion Jellerson, Beatrice Canwell, Esther Pike, Ruth Bull, Barbara Ham, Doris Gregory, Mary Buck, Norrine Waterhouse, Evelyn Kimball (who is now ill at home), Jane Waterhouse, Clara Waterhouse, Jane Runyon, Ann Lyndon, Ellen Spear, Margaret Ripley, Christine Cunningham, Rosamond Foss, Nancy Philbrook, Barbara Tyler, and Patty Goodwin room on the second floor. Muriel James, Constance Philbrook, Louise Jacobs, Elizabeth Fields, Marjorie Files, Barbara Whittemore, and Anne Logofet room on the third floor.

And now for the events. During the football season, a day was picked for 'arents' Day. Of course we didn't mean to pick a rainy day but "One Never Knows, Does One?" When the day arrived, the girls in the Dorm had done their part by making their rooms shining and attractive. Of course they received cuts and bruises but laughter and excitement kept the spirits high. In the afternoon, each girl had to take the parents on a tour through the building and afterward serve them tea in the Reception Room.

When speaking of the Reception Room, I think of the Sun Porch. You should see it now. We have two new sofas and several new easy chairs. All of the furniture is made of maple. There are two new rugs on the floor and curtains hang at the large windows. I don't think that you would recognize it. Of course the radio and piano are still there. The girls gather around the radio and spend their spare time there quite often.

After the mid-year exams, the girls got together and with the help of Miss Roop, gave a Post-Exam Dance. Many of the boys preferred skiing to dancing but we succeeded in making enough money to get our greatly desired Ping-Pong table. We have thought of having a May Dance to get some money for other things in the Dorm but definite plans haven't been made yet.

I have told you quite a bit about the past and present affairs in the Dorm, so I think I'll save the rest until the next time.

As ever,

Patty

Holden Hall

Just the other day, Mr. Bailey appointed George Adams, one of our commercial students, to take an inventory of the boys in Holden Hall. After a great deal of work, George produced the following masterpiece:

"I, George Adams, have faithfully attended to my duty, and beg to report that there are eighteen boys in Holden Hall dormitory this year.

"To begin with, there is Gurdon Buck, otherwise known as 'Bucky,' 'Mr. Buck,' or simply 'Buck.' He rooms on the first floor of the dorm, and raises the roof, with his cornet, at least three inches every day. It has been carefully estimated that in a few more weeks another story will have to be added to the building.

"Next on the list comes Nathaniel Bartholomaei, of Massachusetts. 'Nat' rooms in the corner room next to Gurdon Buck. There seems to be a slight drawback to this room, however, as the rising bell is so far away that it fails to arouse Mr. Bartholomaei on cold mornings. Don't let it worry you though. 'Nat,' because the rest of us are rather hard of hearing ourselves.

"The potato-eating champ of the dormitory, Carl Tucker by name, rooms with Gurdon Buck on the first floor. Carl's favorite expression is, 'Just a little more mashed potato, please.'

"Walter Eckoff, a newcomer to the dorm, has gone Northern, spelled 'Norton,' in a big way. He is noted for his works of art, and his ability to trim Bartholomaei at chess.

"On the second floor, we find Alden Marshall, the fresh-air fiend, and undisputed door-opener of the dorm. It has been said that the temperature in his room on a cold morning would make a polar bear shiver.

"Traveling down the hall, we come to the humble mansion of the Honorable Dwight Stiles, one of the old, old-timers of the dormitory. In spite of his extreme age, however, he can make more noise than anyone else in the dorm, with the exception of Bryant Bean.

"Next on this list of celebrities comes 'Mac,' or to be exact, Mr. Brooks Elliott MacFarland. Mr. MacFarland is the dormitory's champion ping-pong, carrom, and tiddley-wink player. We understand that he is taking a private course in waiting tables at the Marian True Gehring Students' Home??

The jazz artist of the second floor, Edward Mosher by name, keeps the walls of the dormitory vibrating to the deep bass notes of his saxophone. His music is so stirring that Huston Dodge in the next room has been known to pound his fingers while trying to keep time with his hammer.

"Bryant Bean, the Deacon of the dormitory, and a noted Lyon-hunter as well, rooms with the terror of dust and dirt, Archer Waterhouse, at the head of the stairs. This is an especially fine room for Mr. Bean, as it is very close to the rising bell in the hall.

"Right across the hall from our worthy janitor, lives the famous Huston Dodge, who hails from Damariscotta. 'Hust' spends most of his time working on miniature houses, or buying antiques. He is noted for his 20-mile hikes on Saturdays.

Mr. Herbert (Cubie) Foote, our mail-carrier, who rooms below Huston Dodge, was recently mistaken for a large package by the post master, and was very nearly put into the mail sack with some letters. Since that unhappy incident, 'Herby' has worn a bright red tie and a blue sweater to prevent any more such accidents.

In the next room beyond our mail carrier, we find two loving brothers, Charles Adams and yours truly. It is a usual sight to see Charles come traveling up the hall with his shirt in one hand and his coat in the other, digging at his eyes, and shouting, 'Hey, you guys! Has the last bell rung?'

"Next door to the Adams brothers we find the two men from the 'North Country,' Robert Swain and Edward Miller. 'Bob,' it is said, is a natural woman-hater? And he doesn't get the nickname 'Swingtime' for nothing, as he does an excellent job of playing the fiddle. Eddie Miller is the champion hard-working student of the dorm. He specializes in Doc Savage and other great literateurs.

"The Bennett brothers, Don and Clint, room at the end of the hall, next door to the Andover gentlemen. They also hail from the far North country. Like all real backwoodsmen, they wear long beards."

This concludes my inventory, and I will close with, Yours truly,

George Adams

School Notes

Gould Academy opened its one hundred and first school year on September 16, 1936, with the largest opening day registration on record.

Dr. Frank E. Hanscom has retired from his duties as principal and has become Principal Emeritus and Mr. Philip S. Sayles, formerly of Adams, Mass., has received the principalship. Miss Lorene E. Roop of Marquette, Mich., was engaged to fill the position of Preceptress and instructor in French. Mr. Charles W. Combs of Springfield, Mass., was engaged as an instructor in Latin and Commercial Geography. Mrs. Anna Walton of Auburn, Maine is filling the position of Matron of the Marion True Gehring Students' Home. This position was made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Mary C. Chaplin, who was unable to return this fall because of ill health. Miss Jane E. Carriek of Newton Highlands, Mass., was appointed Instructor in Home Economics to take the place of Miss Lucy Kellogg, whose resignation was accepted September 25th.

The Senior Class of Gould Academy welcomed the class of 1940 at the annual Freshman Reception, Saturday evening, September 27, in William Bingham Gymnasium. Those in the receiving line were: Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Sayles, Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hanscom, Dr. George B. Farnsworth, Miss Lorene Roop, Mr. Erland Wentzell, and Miss Rita Hutchins. Music was furnished by Lord's orchestra.

The first annual Parents' Day at Gould Academy was held Saturday afternoon, October 17. All buildings were open for inspection and guides selected from the Junior and Senior classes conducted the guests through the various buildings. After the Gould-Norway football game the guests were invited to a tea at the Students' Home where Mrs. Philip Sayles and Mrs. Frank E. Hanscom acted as hostesses.

Gould Academy closed on Wednesday, October 28, when the teachers attended the Maine Teachers' Convention at Lewiston.

The American History and Civics class, as a project, had an election for President and Vice-President of the United States on November 2. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Alice Brooks, Town Clerk of Bethel, a sample warrant calling the election and also a sample ballot was obtained, from which the proper warrant was issued by the Selectmen and Constables of the Gould town, and ballots prepared for the school election. This project served to stimulate proper consideration of the merits of the respective candidates and to acquaint future voters with the proper procedure attendant upon civic functions.

On Tuesday morning, November 3, Mr. Gaylord W. Douglass, the New England Secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, addressed the assembly, stating the aims of his organization. The services of Mr. Douglass were obtained through the efforts of Reverend Mr. Wallace.

On January 5, Mr. C. Ray Hanson, criminologist, was the guest speaker. Mr. Hanson was formerly with the United States Department of Justice and Prosecuting Attorney for the city of Chicago. He is at present cooperating with the Police Departments of many of the larger cities as an undercover investigator. His subject was "Ganging Up On Gangland," in which he showed the modern gangster as he really is. Much of Mr. Hanson's talk was on personal experience. This talk tended to promote consideration of modern problems connected with crime and criminals.

The Girl Reserves and Boys' "Y" presented an operetta, "The Sunbonnet Girl," on December 3.

The students and faculty contributed thirty-five dollars to the flood sufferers of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys.

A Christmas party was held on Thursday evening, December 17, before vacation, and a Tea Dance was given by the January 30, after vacation.

The Y. M. C. A. of Gould Academy held an informal dance on February 19, and Carnival Ball on February 20. For Carnival Ball, the gym was very attractively decorated with red, white, and blue streamers, and booths of crepe paper enclosed the tables. A large crowd enjoyed the music of Julian Israelson's Country Club Band, which sat on the stage amidst typical outdoor styles, with a log cabin club house and outdoor trees.

The Seniors of Gould presented their class play, "The Patsy," on April 15.

Commercial Notes

Perhaps in no other phase of school work have there been so many changes and developments in recent years as in Commercial Education. Changes in economic conditions have made it essential that the course of study offered in the secondary school be radically altered. These changes have been so rapid and varied that it often has been difficult to answer the question, "What are the current aims of Commercial Education?"

In the beginning, the course of study consisted only of Bookkeeping, Typewriting, and Shorthand. This idea was borrowed from the privately owned commercial college whose prime purpose it was to prepare students for business positions. Under this set-up, the work offered was primarily vocational and the secondary school was competing with the commercial schools.

In the present economic system, a far different need was found for the commercial course. This need was for a more socialized and personal-use program. Typewriting, for example, was not to be taught solely with the idea that the pupil was going out to earn his living with it, but that many students wanted Typing only for its value in their daily life. Likewise, Bookkeeping and Shorthand were found to contain many cultural, social, exploratory, and personal-use values and these were emphasized more and more.

In short, the work of the secondary school is now primarily of a pre-vocational and personal-use rather than of a vocational nature. That is, if the student wishes to prepare for a business position he should augment his work with at least one year of study in an approved commercial college. This is not only true of a commercial course but it might be applied to almost any other department in the school.

The Commercial Department has enjoyed one of its best years and has accomplished a great deal of work. The work brought in by students and teachers in other departments, and also by people outside the school has aided greatly. Each week a different student is appointed to take care of this special work for that period of time. The work is assigned to certain pupils in this department to be typed, mimeographed, etc. It is hoped that even more work will be brought to this department in the future, as it gives the students a great deal of experience in the different lines of Commercial work.

The Bookkeeping II class have completed their work through corporation accounting and will now work on Bookkeeping Projects. These projects will further aid in emphasizing the social and personal-use values of the course as outlined above and include: Budgeting and Recording College Expenditures, Bookkeeping for a High School Football Team, Household Budgeting and Bookkeeping, Bookkeeping for a Club, Bookkeeping for a Physician, Bookkeeping for a High School Cafeteria, Bookkeeping for a Farmer, Bookkeeping for a High School Newspaper, and Bookkeeping for a High School Treasurer.

The Typewriting I class is divided into two divisions again this year, offering an opportunity to many Seniors and others who wish to learn Typing for their own use. The Typewriting tests are corrected under the International State Contest Rules, and the following students have passed their requirements:

30 WORDS PER MINUTE REQUIRED

- 40 words—Sylvia Bird, Florence Deegan, Barbara Hall, Claire Tebbets
- 30 words—Sylvia Bird, Christine Cunningham, Florence Deegan, Irene Foster, Barbara Hall, Helen Lowe, Barbara Lyon, Elizabeth Lyon, Lawrence Perry, Rita Salls, Clara Silver, Virginia Smith, Helen Stevens, Claire Tebbets, Eleanor Vail.

The Typewriting II class, at the beginning of the year, was made up into two divisions because of the large number enrolled. After mid-years some students dropped out, therefore the divisions were united into one. The following second-year Typewriting students have passed the requirements:

40 WORDS PER MINUTE REQUIRED

- 60 words—Helen Crouse, Ethel Jodrey
- 50 words—George Adams, Helen Crouse, Phyllis Davis, Rita Hutchins, Ethel Jodrey, and John King
- 40 words—George Adams, Vivian Berry, Donald Brown, Helen Crouse, Phyllis Davis, Louise Farrer, Rosamond Foss, Florice Grover, Edward Holt, Rita Hutchins, Ethel Jodrey, John King, Mary Stearns, Christie Thurston, Jane Waterhouse.

Home Economics

Miss Lucy Kellogg, who was a teacher at Gould Academy for six years, married Mr. John Pels of Venezuela, and her place has been filled by Miss Jane Carrick of Newton Highlands, Massachusetts. Under her able supervision, the students at the Cottage have been greatly enjoying their classes.

The classes at the Cottage this year consist of six Seniors, seven Juniors, seven Sophomores, and eighteen Freshmen, who have completed many projects.

During Christmas vacation, the cottage dining room was newly decorated with wall paper, paint, and curtains. Several bedrooms upstairs have been changed into pleasant sewing rooms, and the old sewing room downstairs has been turned into a classroom.

At present, a number of the girls are working on dresses which they plan to submit in a dress contest, to be held in May.

Manual Training

On Thursday, March 29th, the Gould Academy Manual Training Department played host to the numerous friends of the school through the medium of their Seventh Annual Exhibit. The shop and drawing rooms were attractively arranged with the numerous projects made by the boys this year. Throughout the afternoon, parents and friends spent considerable time looking over the fine assortment of work. During the visiting hours, the wood turning lathes were used by Robert Swain, Mellen Kimball, and Dwight Morrill.

Visitors expressed the opinion that this was the finest exhibit of all. They were especially interested in many of the new pieces of furniture built.

Among these pieces were a Hepplewhite card table of Philippine Lluan, inlaid with birdseye maple, by Huston Dodge, a davenport table by Dwight Stiles, a floor lamp by Earlon Keniston, a nut bowl set by Erland Wentzell, and a writing desk by Arthur Bennett.

The following is a list of the Manual training boys and one or two of their better projects: Seniors—Charles Anderson, writing desk; Arthur Bennett, writing desk, reading lamp; Shurwin Bennett, writing desk and drop leaf table; Mervin Buck, writing desk; Huston Dodge, Hepplewhite card table; corner what-not; Shirley Gilbert, reading lamp; Brooks MacFarland, bridge lamp; Earlon Keniston, floor lamp, smoking cabinet; Robert Moore, bridge lamp; Newton Stearns, birdseye maple end table; Dwight Stiles, table lamp, davenport table; Erland Wentzell, bridge lamp, nut bowl set; Robert Whitman, radio table, tilt-top table; Robert Swain, book and magazine rack and floor lamp.

Juniors — Shirley Chase, writing desk; Arthur Hazelton, book and magazine rack, smoking stand; Robert Keniston, writing desk and lamp; Mellen Kimball, smoking stand, nut bowl; Keene Swan, book and magazine rack and lamp; Archer Waterhouse, writing desk; Donald Brown, end table.

Sophomores—Maurice Brooks, table lamp and end table; Parker Brown, table lamp and hall tree; Richard Crockett, colonial clock and end table; Theodore Cummings, hall tree and sewing basket; Rodney Eames, reading lamp and pig meat-boards; Herbert Foote, end table and book end set; Arthur Malley, small cedar chest and end table; Dwight Morrill, leather covered footstool and nut bowl; Laurice Morrill, book shelves and colonial clock; Clarence Poole, hall tree and book end set; Paul Stearns, hall tree and book end set; Edward Wheeler, end table and table lamp.

Freshmen—The Freshman Class completed the requirements of the first year in the shop and then they made many useful pieces among which were: knife and fork boxes, ink stands, cribbage boards, match boxes, book-end-lamp combinations, and book cases.

Public Speaking

At the Freshman Reception, some of the Seniors were in a clever comedy, "Three's a Crowd" by Sara and E. C. McCarty. All parts were well taken by the following cast: Louise Jacobs, Rosamond Foss, Dwight Stiles, Erland Wentzell.

The declamations this year have been especially interesting and enjoyable. Some of them have been repeated on school and outside programs.

At the Armistice Day school program given in the Assembly Room, declamations, "Dan McGann Declares Himself" and "The Unknown Soldier," were given by Bryant Bean and Ann Lyndon, respectively.

At the Girl Reserve Mothers' Night party the following girls presented declamations:

June Little, "I Aint Going to Cry No More."
Patricia Goodwin, "The Frenchman and the Flea Powder."
Rosamond Foss, "The Drugstore."
Arlene Greenleaf, "The Party at Crogan's."
Claire Tebbets, "Aunt Doleful's Visit."

Students have contributed to the entertainment of various town organizations. Bryant Bean gave a reading at Odeon Hall and other declamations at the Lions' Club and Parent-Teachers' Association meetings. Charles Adams has also appeared on a Parent-Teachers' program.

At a Junior Guild meeting held at the Girls' Dormitory, the following declamations were given:

Patricia Goodwin, "The Frenchman and the Flea Powder."
 Constance Philbrook, "Da Besta Friend."
 Rosamond Foss, "The Drugstore."
 Elizabeth Field, "Jim."
 Louise Jacobs, "The Story of Augustus."

As a part of the St. Patrick's Day program of the Ladies' Club at Mrs. Sayles', the following Irish poems were presented:

"The Party at Crogan's," Arlene Greenleaf.
 "Larrie O'Dee," Florice Grover.
 "Biddy and the Police," Lydia Norton.

At the time of writing, plans are being made for a program of music by the Girls' Glee Club at which time various declamations will also be given by students.

The Freshmen, as usual, have attended speech class once a week and will give their only declamation in the assembly room the first and second weeks in May.

The Commencement pageant will be "The Kingdom of Books," by Walter L. Bissell.

The pageant is unique in that the stage setting represents books on a shelf from which various characters emerge to depict scenes from the stories.

"THE SUNBONNET GIRL"

On December 3, 1936, an operetta, "The Sunbonnet Girl" was presented by the Girl Reserves and Y. M. C. A. After several weeks of strenuous rehearsals, the following cast gave an excellent performance:

Miranda Meadows,	June Little
Mrs. Meadows,	Margaret Tibbetts
Luella,	Louise Jacobs
Hiram Meadows,	Robert Whitman
Evaline Scroggs,	Rosamond Foss
Reuben,	Bryant Bean
Ezra McSpavin,	John Tebbets

Mrs. Coleman,	Jane Chapin
Bob,	Richard Young
Barbara,	Constance Philbrook
Jerry,	Dwight Stiles
Susan,	Barbara Lyon
Mrs. Scroggs,	Ada Cotton
Abijah Scroggs,	Lewis Porter
Sadie,	Elizabeth Lyon

Village girls and boys: Nancy Philbrook, Barbara Moore, Lydia Norton, Margaret Bennett, Patricia Goodwin, Phyllis Davis, Rita Hutchins, Ann Lyndon, Geraldine Stanley, Madeleine Hall, Ina Bean, Ruth Bull, Frank Littlehale, Arthur Bennett, Earle Palmer, Erland Wentzell, O'Neil Robertson, Bernard Bartlett, Rodney Howe, Donald Holt, Shirley Gilbert, Shurwin Bennett, Theodore Cummings, Mellen Kimball.

The scenery for the operetta was very attractive. A blue cottage with a white piazza, a garden around which there was a white picket fence, wisteria on the gateways and arbors, and a landscape drop from Odeon Hall, made a very realistic setting to represent the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Meadows.

Every member of the cast was outstanding. Barbara Lyon, as Sunbonnet Sue, has received many compliments on the manner in which she sang and acted her part. Bryant Bean and John Tebbets were greeted with much laughter; their songs, dances, and acting were very funny. Imitating an opera singer, Rosamond Foss had to sing "Spring is On the Way" twice to please the audience. June Little, Jane Chapin, Constance Philbrook, Ada Cotton, Elizabeth Lyon, Richard Young, Dwight Stiles, and Lewis Porter all deserve to be praised for their good singing and acting. Louise Jacobs deserves praise for her dance solo which was part of the contest program; the Virginia Reel which was danced by eight of the village girls and boys was enjoyed by all. The chorus sang lustily throughout.

A treat was certainly waiting for all who went to the operetta; people were more than pleased to see such an outstanding presentation. Afterwards, many who did not go were wishing they had gone, and many who did go said they would enjoy seeing it again. The Girl Reserves and Y. M. C. A. sold a large number of tickets; more money was collected than ever before. In fact, not for many years has there been such a large audience at the Gym to see a paid dramatic performance.

Between acts, Miss Leavengood was called on the stage to receive a large bouquet of flowers from the Girl Reserves and Y. M. C. A.

"THE PATSY"

The Senior Play, "The Patsy," was presented April 15, 1937. The cast was as follows:

Bill Harrington,	Dwight Stiles
Mrs. Wm. Harrington,	Rosamond Foss
Grace Harrington,	Rita Hutchins
Patricia Harrington,	Constance Philbrook
Billy Caldwell,	Erland Wentzell
Tony Anderson,	Lawrence Perry
Sadie Buchanan,	Ann Lyndon
Mr. O'Flaherty,	Robert Whitman
"Trip" Busty,	O'Neil Robertson

Each member of the cast was an excellent character in the part portrayed.

Ma's (Rosamond Foss) weeping and Pop's (Dwight Stiles) efforts to become a regular "he-man" instead of a hen-pecked husband were very humorous. Much fun was had at Tony's (Lawrence Perry) suggestions of how a girl can get the man she wants. Grace, (Rita Hutchins) was Pat's hateful older sister.

Each member of the cast should be praised for the way each played his part. Miss Leavengood and the girls of the cast were presented with lovely flowers by the Senior Class.

DEBATING CLUB

The officers of the debating club, with Mr. Fossett as Faculty adviser, are: President, O'Neil Robertson; Vice-President Barbara Moore; and Secretary, Rita Hutchins.

The members of the debating club are: Bryant Bean, Edward Robertson, Royden Keddy, Rita Hutchins, Nancy Philbrook, Richard Young, Shirley Chase, Helen Crouse, Jane Chapin, Robert Keniston, Florice Grover, John King, Henry Hastings, Margaret Tibbetts, Barbara Moore, Donald Bennett, Erland Wentzell, Murray Thurston, Ina Bean, Anne Ring, Claire Tebbets, Arlene Greenleaf, Rita Salls, Helen Lowe, Phyllis Davis, Kathryn Davis, Virginia Davis, Sherman Williamson, Irving Brown, Jane Runyon, and Geraldine Stanley.

The debating club has held several debates in the past year, which were very interesting. Both judging and chairmanship were conducted by members of the club.

Music

This has been a very successful year because the members of both glee clubs have made much progress in the reading and interpretation of music.

The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs have carried on their bi-weekly rehearsals as usual, and each club has sung at the Chapel Exercises. One morning, the Girls' Glee Club sang "Wake, Miss Lindy" and "Starry Night," which were much appreciated by the Student Body. The boys also added to the enjoyment of Chapel one morning by singing two rousing numbers: "The Clang of the Forge" and "Nursery Rhyme Suite."

Following the custom of the past three years, the Girls' Glee Club will sing at the Baccalaureate Service. This year they will sing: "God is a Spirit," from "The Woman of Samaria," by W. S. Bennett; "Prayer Perfect," by Riley-Stenson. The Girls' Glee Club is also planning a program to be given publicly.

Glee Club pins, which are given for three years' membership in the club, were awarded to: Vivian Berry, Jessie Brooks, Jane Chapin, Ada Cotton, Marjorie Fish, Florice Grover, Elizabeth Lyon, Nancy Philbrook, Mellen Kimball, Richard Young, Rodney Howe, Frank Littlehale, and O'Neil Robertson.

The following Senior members of both glee clubs will be greatly missed by the groups next year: Phyllis Davis, Rita Hutchins, Barbara Moore, Constance Philbrook, Rosamond Foss, Shirley Gilbert, Dwight Stiles, Richard Young, Shurwin Bennett, O'Neil Robertson, and Erland Wentzell.

An innovation this year has been the formation of a Chapel Choir, chosen by Miss Leavengood, from the members of both glee clubs. This choir serves to lead the singing each morning at Chapel and has given excellent support. Besides this, the choir has sung several times this year at different functions. "The Recessional" was sung at the Armistice Day program in the Assembly Hall. This song was repeated at the service held in the Methodist Church in a program given there after the installation of the new organ. At a Christmas party, the choir led in the singing of Christmas Carols.

The members of the Chapel Choir are: Rosamond Foss, Jane Chapin, Barbara Lyon, Phyllis Davis, Constance Philbrook, June Little, Ann Lyndon, Rita Hutchins, Elizabeth Lyon, Geraldine Stanley, Richard Young, Erland Wentzell, Dwight Stiles, Shurwin Bennett, Arthur Bennett, Bernard Bartlett, Louis Porter, Mellen Kimball, Bryant Pean, Donald Holt, and Shirley Gilbert.

GIRL RESERVE NOTES

On September 28, 1936, the Girl Reserves planned their usual fall hike and supper in honor of all the girls of the school and women teachers of the faculty. They left the dormitory in imaginary automobiles with girls following on bicycles and on foot as policemen, to see if they obeyed the laws. If they did not, they had to pay a fine or forfeit. They arrived on Paradise Hill. Phyllis Davis was in charge of the initiation of the new girls. The supper of weenies, rolls, coffee, milk, cake, and cookies was served to all. After the supper, songs were sung, and everyone left for home.

On October 20, 1936, the Girl Reserves held their usual annual initiation of the new members in the William Bingham Gymnasium. Barbara Moore, the President, led the meeting. Miss Roop added her helpful assistance to all taking part. The following girls were initiated:

Jessie Brooks	Kathryn Davis
Jane Runyon	Ruth Bull
Patricia Goodwin	Mary Buck
Ann Ring	Clara Waterhouse
June Little	Esther Pike
Claire Tebbets	Edna Young
Beatrice Canwell	Doris Gregory
Barbara Ham	Madeliene Hall
Ellen Spear

The parents and friends of the girls were invited. After the initiation service, a short play was given by Margaret Tibbetts, Constance Philbrook, Barbara Moore, and Rosamond Foss and an accordion solo by Phyllis Davis. Following this, the girls danced, assisted at the piano by Doris Lord. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to everyone. At nine o'clock everybody was ready to leave after spending a very enjoyable evening with the Girl Reserves.

The Girl Reserves held their first meeting in the music room on November 9, 1936. The subject of the meeting was "Vocation for Women."

The meeting opened by repeating the Girl Reserve Code and Song. Business was discussed.

Miss Roop named many vocations for women, and a few subjects were chosen to be reported on by girls at the next meeting.

The meeting closed by singing the "Pep Song."

A very interesting program was arranged for the Girl Reserves meeting which was held Wednesday afternoon, January 6, 1937. The meeting opened with the roll call and the singing of several hymns, after which Margaret Tibbetts read from the School Service Book. It was suggested that a supper and tea be given to the Mothers and Daughters but no definite plans were made at this meeting. Vocation topics, dealing with the subject of Nursing, were discussed by the guest speakers. Phyllis Davis of Bethel and Ellen Spear of Rumford. Christie Thurston read a short report of the school year, and Jane Chapin read an article on people's weight. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

The Girl Reserves held a meeting in the Music Room, January 9, 1937. Because of the illness of Barbara Moore, the president, Mary Clough, the Vice President, led the meeting.

The meeting was opened by having the roll call. Geraldine Stanley read a short prayer which was followed by the report of last meeting. Plans for the Mothers' Entertainment, which is to be given, were discussed.

A short program of health readings was given by the following: Barbara Ham, Elizabeth Field, Florice Grover, Virginia Smith. The meeting was adjourned.

A short business meeting of the Girl Reserves was held in the English Room, March 9, 1937. Barbara Moore was still absent from school, so Mary Clough led the meeting.

Business concerning the Mothers' Entertainment to be given March 18, 1937, was the main topic. The committees for the social are:

Program Committee—Nancy Philbrook
Refreshment Committee—Christie Thurston, Claire Tebbets

Arrangement Committee—Margaret Tibbetts, Rita Hutchins, Jane Chapin, Constance Philbrook

A very interesting entertainment has been planned for the Mothers.

The meeting was adjourned.

The Girl Reserves' Annual Mother-Daughter Party was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium, March 18, 1937 with a large gathering of mothers and friends. After a few words of welcome by Barbara Moore, the president, the following program was presented:

Spanish Dance No. 1, Moszkowski

Ensemble—Piano, Miss Maude Ellen Pike; Cello, Mrs. Robert M. Waugh; 1st violin, Miss Clara Shepard; 2nd violin, Miss Lorene Roop

Declamation—The Party at Crogan's, Arlene Greenleaf

Solo Dance,

Virginia Smith

accompanied by Jane Chapin

Cello Solo—Old Italian Love Song,

Sammartini

Mrs. Waugh

There was a good attendance and keen competition in all these events.

Scoring in the different events was as follows:

BOYS

- Ski Jumping—first, Frank Littlehale; second, Erland Wentzell; third, Richard Young; fourth, Sidney Howe.
- Slalom—Class A—first, Bob Browne; second, Erland Wentzell; third, Frank Littlehale; fourth, Richard Young and Dana Brooks.
- Slalom—Class B—first, Dana Brooks; second, Dwight Stiles; third, Mellen Kimball; fourth, Walter Eckhoff.

GIRLS

- 100 yard ski dash—first, Catherine McMillan; second, Marion Jellerson; third, Ethlyn McMillan; fourth, Jane Waterhouse.
- Downhill — first, Phyllis Davis; second, Louise Jacobs; third, Clara Waterhouse; fourth, Madelyn Bird and Catherine McMillan.
- 100 yard Snowshoe Dash—first, Phyllis Davis; second, Barbara Lyon; third, Margaret Tibbetts; fourth, Claire Tebbets.
- Three-Legged Snowshoe Race—first, Helen Lowe and Mary Clough; second, Phyllis Davis and Margaret Tibbetts; third, Kathryn Davis and Ethlyn McMillan; fourth, Barbara Lyon and Claire Tebbets.

This year four medals were awarded in each event, gold for first, silver for second, gold-bronze for third, and bronze for fourth. A trophy was presented to the school by Mr. Sayles to be awarded each year to the class scoring the most points in competition with the other classes during the winter carnival; five points for first place, three for second, two for third, and one for fourth. The class selling the most tickets was awarded five points with second third and fourth, collecting points in proportion. Also, the winning classes in the basketball games on Friday afternoon are awarded five points each toward the trophy.

The medals and the trophy were awarded in assembly Monday morning, March first. The Seniors won the Winter Sport Trophy with 76 points. The other class scores were: Sophomores, 34½ points; Juniors, 15; Freshmen, 14; and P. G.'s, 11½. Dwight Stiles, for the boys, and Phyllis Davis, for the girls, received the most points in the Carnival.

Miss Marion Parsons was married to Robert Clough on April 7, 1937.

1924

Earlyn E. Wheeler was married to Miss Pearl A. Nash of Camden on Sept. 6, 1936. Mr. Wheeler is a forestry supervisor in the Mount Katahdin region.

Mrs. Maud Goud Dix is a member of the New Hampshire State Legislature.

Miss Eleanor Lucille Nelson, who taught at Gould Academy in the year 1931-1932 was married on April 28th to William Pitt Ferguson.

Mrs. Marian True Gehring

Mrs. Gehring was the daughter of Nathaniel T. True and Mrs. Suzanna Stevens True. Born at Bethel, Maine and educated by her father, The Beloved Teacher, at Gould Academy, she graduated from Bradford Academy, and went to Boston to study music.

Devoted to education and the cultural advancement of young people, Mrs. Gehring's influence was felt far and wide during her long residence in Maine. Gould Academy, as it stands today, is the result of many years of effort on her part to interest others in this local opportunity for education. Without her foresight and enthusiasm the little school could hardly have survived, let alone become the magnificent institution it is today.

We pay our tribute of loving memory to that life so filled with good deeds, that splendid faith that sustained her and made her strong to live for four-score years and more, so useful, so worthy, so outstanding a life.

William Jewell Upson

Mr. William Jewell Upson was a man of unusual culture and great personal charm. In Bethel, the town of his adoption, he knew and loved all. The genuine affection and respect of every citizen and child were his.

In the games and contests on the Athletic Field, Mr. Upson had a keen and appreciative enjoyment and when ill health claimed him, his vacant place caused grief to both participants and fellow spectators.

With Mrs. Upson, formerly Miss Nina Hodgdon of Orland, he established a beautiful home on Broad Street and here with their music, gardens and books, they fully enjoyed life.

Second only to his home were his interests in Gould Academy, of which he was a trustee. In the untimely death of Mr. Upson, our town and our school have lost a valued friend.

Mrs. Mary Chase Herrick

Mrs. Mary Chase Herrick, during a long life spent in Bethel, was so closely affiliated with the schools and the library that in her passing, these institutions suffer an irreparable loss. To her fine influence may be truly attributed the high tenor of the educational standards of our schools.

As a graduate of Mount Holyoke Seminary she realized the joy and advantages of higher education and made many an opportunity to assist and encourage deserving boys and girls. Active and independent to her final hours, she found great enjoyment and satisfaction in the growth and expansion of Gould Academy. Mrs. Herrick was an active and prominent trustee of Bethel Library and a member of the West Parish Congregational Church, and she was an esteemed member of the Board of Trustees of Gould Academy.

Mrs. Olive Melissa Lee Mason

In the passing of Mrs. Olive Melissa Lee Mason, Gould Academy has lost one of its most respected and loyal trustees, a woman who was interested in school matters, having started as a teacher in this community, first teaching in the little school on Broad Street and later at Gould Academy.

Mrs. Mason was born at Vernon, Vermont, October 6, 1840, coming to Bethel in 1862. She was a woman of strong, sterling character, especially interested in young people and did much to help many obtain an education.

For years she was a valued trustee of the Academy. She always showed keen interest in all school activities brought to her attention.

Her passing removes from our midst a woman who was ever generous, thoughtful, mindful of the rights of others, sound and conservative in judgment and ever ready to lend her influence to any cause that gave promise of ultimate good.

Football

With the loss of a number of star players from the previous year, the Gould Academy eleven started practice with a grim outlook ahead. With six letter men, which included only four regulars from last year, prospects for victories looked dark indeed. The small squad, that reported early in September to Coaches Anderson and Myers, refused to be downcast. The boys, handicapped by lack of experience and weight, made up for it by fight and determination.

Gould 20—Winthrop 0

On September 26th, just two weeks after the opening of school, this determined band of pigskin toters was lined up against Winthrop High School for the opening game. Not a great deal was expected of them but they produced a fine 20-0 victory. Due to a lack of good substitutes, the eleven men who started this game played nearly the entire season and were fittingly called the "iron men." These men lined up as follows: R. E., Dwight Stiles; R. T., Robert Moore; R. G., Rodney Howe; C., Frank Littlehale; L. G., Edward Holt; L. T., Murray Thurston; L. E., Captain O'Neil Robertson; Q. B., Erland Wentzell; R. H., Parker Brown; L. H., Lawrence Perry; and R. H., Eddy Robertson. Substitutes who did most of the help in the pinches were Robert Keniston, Dick Young, Donald Holt, Dana Brooks, and Brooks MacFarland.

Gould 0—Mexico 0

Following their 20-0 victory over Winthrop, the "Blue and Gold" met the highly respected and heavier Mexico Pintos. The game proved to be a great defensive battle which ended in a scoreless tie. The tie score was really a well-earned victory for Gould as they withstood a number of Mexico marches in scoring territory.

Gould 38—Bridgton 0

In the third game of the season, Gould maintained its clean slate by flocking Bridgton High School, running up a total of 38 points. The local eleven played hard clean football and showed their best offense of the year. The game was played with only part of their offensive power, one of their best shifts not being used, since the game was being scouted by one of the next opponents.

Gould 6—Norway 6

In perhaps one of the hardest rains of the season, Gould Academy met and broke even with Norway High. It was a game of breaks with neither team able to gain consistently on a wind and rain-swept field. The first break came in the first period when Stiles intercepted a pass and ran 82 yards for a touchdown. In the third period the Norway safety man reversed his field after receiving a punt and, as Gould tacklers slipped and slid, managed to break into the open where he picked up a solid wall of interference and crossed the coveted line to tie the score at 6 all. The remainder of the game was played in mid-field where Gould's much lighter team put up a valiant defensive battle against Norway's big line.

South Paris 12—Gould 6

The "Blue and Gold" eleven started the fifth game of the season looking like winners. Early in the first period, after some fine runs, Gould had crossed the line for 6 points. The fighting Paris team came back strong in the second period, however, to tie up the score.

In the second half both teams fought on even terms until a break came for the winners. With 3 minutes left to play Paris began to heave long passes. On a 40 yard pass, a potential receiver at the 3 yard line was interfered with by Parker Brown who was attempting desperately to stop the Paris air attack. This gave the Paris boys the ball on the 3 yard line and 4 downs to make it. The losers put up a valiant goal line defense but the winning touchdown went over by inches on the fourth down.

Farmington 7—Gould 0

The Farmington Greyhounds came to Bethel expecting to take an easy victory but the Gould eleven played its best game of the year and gave Farmington's bigger team all they could handle. After playing three periods of scoreless ball and with less than three minutes to play in the game, the Gould line failed to hold and Eddy Robertson was a little slow in getting away with a fourth down punt with the result that said punt was blocked and the ball rolled to the 18 yard line. This break was all the inspiration needed by the much thwarted Farmington team. In the final minutes they pushed over the only touchdown of the game and successfully rushed the extra point to win a hard fought and brilliantly played game 7-0.

Thus ended the season of 1936. Gould Academy and Bethel fans throughout the season were loud in praise of accomplishments that were not even dreamed of as the "Blue and Gold" small squad began practice in early September. Never has a team been more deserving of praise than these grim fighters, who outscored their opponents by a 70-25 margin for the year.

From this small group Gould will lose many veterans and leave for 1937 a smaller group than ever. In the line the loss of Capt. O'Neil Robertson, Robert Moore, Edward Holt, Rodney Howe, and Dwight Stiles will be most keenly felt. In the backfield, Wentzell, Perry, and Dick Young will be lost through graduation also.

The following men were presented the official football G in recognition of their fine work:

Capt. O'Neil Robertson	(end)
Murray Thurston	(tackle)
Edward Holt	(guard)
Frank Littlehale	(center)
Rodney Howe	(guard)
Robert Moore	(tackle)
Dwight Stiles	(end)
Erland Wentzell	(quarterback)
Eddy Robertson	(fullback)
Lawrence Perry	(halfback)
Parker Brown	(halfback)
Dick Young	(fullback)
Brooks MacFarland,	(fullback)
Robert Keniston	(tackle)
George Adams	(Mgr.)

Basketball

The season of 1936-37 started with two regulars from last year, Ed Robertson and E. Wentzell. O. Robertson, a letter man of considerable experience, was also available. The rest of the squad, except Swain from Andover, was made up of former second-team and "B" squad players.

This squad elected Erland Wentzell, captain. The team that was finally selected proved to be the smallest team in years.

The season started well with victories over Colebrook and Bridgton, but the luck did not last. The opponents this year were exceptionally strong; all the schools were having the best teams they have had in years. In spite of stiff opposition and sometimes very discouraging defeat, the first team were determined fighters who never stopped the battle until the whistle blew. Before the season was half over, the team was seriously crippled, due to the loss of Eddy

Robertson because of his illness. Shortly afterwards, an injury caused the loss of their other guard, Parker Brown. But the loss of these players and the almost unbreakable string of defeats did not kill the courage of the men and they kept their fighting sprit, throughout the season.

The following letter men will be lost because of graduation: Captain Wentzell, O. Robertson, Swain, Stiles, and R. Howe. This leaves only three letter men for next season, Ed Robertson, Brooks MacFarland, and Parker Brown. However, there are some fine prospects for the next few years among the Freshmen (class of 1940) and Sophomores (class of 1939). Rodney Wentzell, who won the interclass tourney for the Sophomores almost single-handed, should be an outstanding man. The exceptionally promising Freshmen, are Young, Palmer, Hutchins, and Tucker. Others who have had some experience in the second team are Frank Littlehale, D. Brown, M. Thurston, R. Crockett, and S. Howe.

Track

Due to the fact that the state meet was held after school closed, the 1936 track team, under Coach Fossett's leadership, did not compete in it. The best showing of the season was in the Oxford county track meet where they placed second, the scores being as follows: Norway, 59 1-6; Gould, 43; Rumford, 24½; Mechanic Falls, 22; South Paris, 15½.

The following men received track letters for the season of 1936:

Captain Stiles	Edward Robertson
Robert Browne	Brooks MacFarland
Russell Burris	Robert Keniston
Edward Holt	Donald Brown
Robert Moore	Manager John King
O'Neil Robertson

The following is a summary of the different track meets:

Class of '37 Wins Inter-class Track Meet

The class of '37 walked away with the first honors in the inter-class meet held at Gould. Fifty-four points were scored by the class of 1937, 32½ by the class of 1938, 21½ by the class of 1936, and none by the class of 1939. Outstanding point gatherers were: Capt. Gould Trackmen Place Second In County Meet at Hebron

The Gould track team took second place in the annual County meet held at Hebron. Five schools competed in the track and field events. Bob Browne and Captain Stiles were leading scorers for Gould, and the running of O'Neil Robertson in coping first place in the mile was outstanding. The Gould varsity relay team consisting of Stiles Burris, Moore, and D. Brown, placed first in their event, as did the Freshman relay team consisting of P. Brown, R. Crockett, J. Tebbetts, and L. Keniston.

70 yard high hurdles—Surette, R.; Bartlett, N.; MacFarland, G.; Moore, G. Time 11 2-5.

100 yard dash—Wiley, N.; Frost, N.; Stiles, G.; D. Brown, G. Time 10 3-5.

Senior relay—won by Gould; second, South Paris.

Score: Norway, 59 1-6; Gould, 43; Rumford, 24½; Mechanic Falls, 22; South Paris, 15½.

Trackmen for 1937

The loss of Bob Browne, quarter-mile state champion of 1935 will be keenly noticed.

1937 has the following letter men: Stiles, who won the broad jump in last year's county meet and who also placed in 100 yard dash and javelin throw; O. Robertson, winner of last year's county mile event; Ed Robertson, who placed 2d in county half-mile; Brooks MacFarland, one of the first three in the county mile and high hurdles; Don Brown, dash man and a promising high jumper; Robert Moore, high hurdler; Robert Keniston, weight man; Ed Holt, half-miler; and the following new comers: Ed. Miller, S. Chase, M. Thurston, Harold Young, E. Palmer, Don Bennett, Don Holt, Keene Swan, R. Crockett, Bud Bartlett, Rodney Howe, Bryant Bean, Robert Whitman, Mellen Kimball, Irving Brown, Robert Billings, Rupert Grover, Laurice Morrill, Carl Tucker, T. Cummings, Robert Swain and Dwight Morrill.

This year's team will be captained by O'Neil Robertson and managed by John King.

Meets already arranged include a dual meet with Norway, a four-cornered meet at Farmington Normal, the Oxford County track meet at Hebron, and the State meet at Portland.

Baseball

The Gould Academy team of 1936 had an unusually successful season, winning 6 games and losing 3. The three games lost were all lost by one run and the South Paris game went 12 innings. Gould outscored its opponents 90 to 49.

The team featured the hard hitting of four players whose average exceeded .300. Eddy Robertson led the batters with an average of .405, closely followed by Paul Daniels with .400. Next came Bob Browne with .325 including many extra base wallops and two home runs. Dick Young copped fourth place with .312. Lovejoy, a good hitter, kept himself above the .300 mark most of the year but dropped to .290 by the end of the season.

Three players, Bob Browne, Ed Robertson and Al Lovejoy, led, scoring runs, each man crossing the plate 13 times.

Dan Quimby led the pitchers with three victories against no defeats. Lefty Keniston gained one victory against no defeats. Bob Browne won one game and lost one, while Art Whitman won one and lost two.

Girls' Athletics

Horseshoes Manager: Mary Clough

Horseshoes began October 5, 1936. After three weeks, the horseshoe teams were picked as follows:

Freshmen—V. Davis, M. Hall, M. Bird, E. Vashaw.

Sophomores—M. Clough, B. Lyon, V. Chapman, M. Bennett.

Juniors—H. Crouse, F. Grover, P. Hunt, V. Berry.

Seniors—B. Moore, E. Vail, Y. Kimball, E. Kimball.

The tournament that was played was won by the Junior Class.

Hiking Manager: Florice Grover

This year, fifty-two girls completed all of the hiking requirements. Six forty-five minute supervised hikes, six forty-five minute individual hikes, one five-mile hike, and one eight-mile hike had to be taken. Bicycles could be used for individual hikes.

Volley Ball, Manager: Nancy Philbrook

Much enthusiasm is being shown toward volley ball at present. After a few weeks of practice, a class tournament will be held. Five Seniors, eleven Juniors, seventeen Sophomores, and sixteen Freshmen have signed up for class teams. The Seniors will have to forfeit all games because enough girls to form a team did not sign up.

Basketball Manager: Barbara Moore

A group of sixty-four girls reported for basketball this year. The girls worked hard to make the teams and after a few weeks of practice, they were chosen as follows:

Seniors—M. Tibbetts, Cap., A. Lyndon, B. Moore, R. Hutchins, P. Davis, C. Philbrook. Substitutes: R. Foss, L. Jacobs, E. Vail, H. Stearns, Y. Kimball.

Juniors—P. Goodwin, Cap., N. Philbrook, P. Hunt, V. Berry, H. Crouse, G. Stanley. Substitutes: I. Bean, M. Fish, J. Chapin.

Sophomores—M. Bennett, Cap., M. Clough, H. Lowe, V. Chapman, A. Greenleaf, B. Lyon. Substitutes: V. Smith, M. Robertson, J. Chapman, J. Little.

Freshmen—M. Bird, Cap., V. Davis, E. Young, E. McMillan, M. Vail, C. McMillan. Substitutes: K. Davis, M. Hall, B. Ham, E. Vashaw, M. Buck, E. Pike.

The Seniors won the class Championship, winning five games and losing one. The Juniors were second, losing two games, and winning four. The competition was unusually close with little choice between the Seniors and Juniors. The first Senior-Junior game went to the Juniors but in the second, the Seniors nosed out the Juniors by two points. Due to the fact that the Sophomores defeated the Juniors once, the Seniors came out on top. The tournament should be even closer next year with 1938, 1939, and 1940 boasting fine teams.

Constance Philbrook was the Senior high-point scorer, while Nancy Philbrook scored the most points for the Junior team, Virginia Chapman for the Sophomores, and Virginia Davis and Edna Young tied for that honor in the Freshman class.

The "A" Squad for the '36-'37 season was chosen as follows: Barbara Moore, Rita Hutchins, Rosamond Foss, Louise Jacobs, Ann Lyndon, Margaret Tibbetts, Constance Philbrook, Captain, Nancy Philbrook, Vivian Berry, Patricia Goodwin, Helen Crouse, Phyllis Davis, Helen Lowe, Margaret Bennett.

Although the Varsity season as a whole was unsuccessful, the development of underclassmen in key positions augurs well for the future. Four players, Constance Philbrook, Ann Lyndon Margaret Tibbetts, and Rita Hutchins will be graduated along with Barbara Moore, who was unable to play the greater part of the season because of illness, Rosamond Foss, and Louise Jacobs. Five underclassmen saw service in the varsity games and gained valuable experience. Nancy Philbrook, Patricia Goodwin, and Helen Lowe should make an efficient trio of forwards while the veteran guards, Vivian Berry and Helen Crouse, should maintain a fine defense. Geraldine Stanley, Margaret Bennett, Mary Clough, Phyllis Hunt, Edna Young, and Virginia Davis should aid the first team materially.

The first game was played with Mechanic Falls. Against a far superior team of girls, our team put up a hard fight.

Winter Sports Manager: Eleanor Vail

There were thirty-four girls who took Winter Sports this year. The weather wasn't the best for it but all of the outings were taken and the hours were spent skiing, snowshoeing, skating, or sliding.

A great deal of interest was shown in the Carnival this year. Many more girls than usual competed in the different events. The Seniors, by collecting nineteen points, were the Carnival winners. The Sophomores were second with thirteen points; the Freshmen followed closely with twelve points; and Juniors failed to place. Phyllis Davis was individual high-point winner, winning eleven and one-half points.

On November 13, 1936, the G. A. A. sponsored a sport dance. The gym was attractively decorated and cider and doughnuts were served.

Gym Exhibition

The Girls' Physical Education Demonstration, held on Friday evening, April 30, in the William Bingham Gymnasium, provided a most pleasant evening for all those present. Under the able direction of Miss Dorothy Hanscom, Head of the Girls' Physical Education Department, the following interesting program was given:

Entrance

Freshman Stunts

"Dance of the Pirates" (A character dance)

Apparatus: Rope, Trapeze, Bars

"Twinkle Toes" (A tap dance)

Marching and Calisthenics

"School Days" (A tap dance)

Games

Folk Dances: "Military Schottische"
"Kinderpolka"

Tumbling

Pyramids

Pianists—Phyllis Davis and
Claire Tebbets

The entrance was made by the girls of the four classes and they presented a colorful picture in their blue, lavender, orange, and green gym suits. The "Dance of the Pirates" was presented by the following girls: Rita Hutchins, Helen Crouse, Constance Philbrook, Louise Jacobs, Rosamond Foss, and Patricia Goodwin. Sixteen girls took part in the tap dance "Twinkle Toes." "School Days" was presented by the following Sophomore girls: Barbara Lyon, Sylvia Bird, Mary Robertson, Mary Clough, June Little, Virginia Smith. The Folk Dances were given by the Freshman girls.
